

2017 Food Safety Report

Special Supplement Insert

Closes February 10, 2017

For the fifth year in a row, The National Provisioner publishes its highly anticipated annual report on food safety trends and technologies, current regulatory issues, and operational advice authored by leading processing executives and food safety experts (click here to read last year's report).

This March, the annual report returns with even more valuable food safety information. The 2017 Food Safety Report will include a wealth of cutting edge information from top food safety experts. Suppliers of all types of food safety related products and equipment including post-packaging pasteurization, food safety testing, metal detection/X-ray, ingredients, sanitation equipment/services and more will benefit from delivering your print/online solutions message in the Food Safety Report.

Produced in partnership with BNP Media's Food Safety Summit (click here for website), a solutions-based conference and expo designed to meet the educational and informational needs of the entire food industry; the 2016 Food Safety Report will be published as a supplement and distributed to:

- 25,500 print and digital subscribers *The National Provisioner
- 1,700+ registered attendees of the 2016 Food Safety Summit (prior to the event)
- 11,029+ subscribers of Provisioner Prime eNewsletter*
- 16,537+ ProvisionerOnline.com website user sessions*

SPONSORSHIP OF THE 2017 FOOD SAFETY REPORT INCLUDES:

- Full or half page ad placement
- Company/product profile in Food Safety Showcase section
- Banner ad within State of Food Safety Report online for two months
- Logo on Food Safety Report "Provisioner Prime Special Report" promotional email
- Qualified, telephone-generated sales leads via our Lead Advantage Program

* BPA Report, December 2016
